District Allotment About Doubled

The results of the Military Y.M.C.A. campaign throughout The Pass were certainly encouraging. $2090 was the amount allotted for us to raise in this district, and about double that amount has been raised. Of the $4085.00, which is the figure at present in sight, the town of Coleman came up with a total of $1783.20 for an objective of $1000.00. Blairmore hoped to raise $1000.00, but owing to difficulty in organizing the miners the contributions will not exceed eight or nine hundred. Frank raised about $230, Hillcrest about $280, while Bellevue's returns, not yet completed, will total about $800.

Mrs. Stevulak is Killed by Train

The wife of John Stevulak, butcher, of West Coleman, was the victim of an accident on Friday night last, which resulted in instant death. Mrs. Stevulak had been a great worker for the Red Cross and besides taking an active part in the workings of the local branch, had on many occasions given dances, the proceeds of which she turned over to the funds of the local branch. And it was while in the act of proceeding to the home of Mrs. Dunlop in East Coleman to deliver to her the proceeds of a dance given the night previous that Mrs. Stevulak was run over and killed by the 2207 east-bound passenger train on Friday night. It seems that the woman, preferred to walk the track and was just opposite the International tube when she was overtaken by the train. Owing to the noise and lights from the tipple, it was about impossible for the woman to hear or see the train approaching, and practically without warning the engine hit her, fracturing her skull and doing other serious injuries to her body. Rounding the curve near the Bluff, the engineer noticed an object on the track but a short distance from the engine. He turned on the emergency brakes immediately and blew the whistle, but the object had suddenly disappeared. Nearing the C.P.R. platform, the engineer informed the fireman that he had noticed some object on the track and would go back to investigate. The woman was found lying lifeless by the track. Her hat was picked up near the depot, having been carried there on the cow-catcher. The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Davies, and after an inquest held on Saturday were removed to the home in West Coleman, from whence funeral took place on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Stevulak was about thirty-seven years of age and was very highly respected. She leaves a husband and two small children to mourn the loss of a kind and loving wife and mother.

Lieut. J. Grimshaw, of Hillcrest, is reported wounded in action.

Blairmore Chautauqua, August 14th to 20th

Some time ago we noticed that Blairmore had been omitted from the programme of the Ellison-White Chautauqua for 1918, and wondered what had happened. Now we are pleased to learn from the Calgary office that the second annual assembly in Blairmore will be for a whole week, August 14th to 20th inclusive, and that the programme will be even more interesting than that of last year, and we are promised the greatest and best-balanced aggregation of artists ever assembled on a seven-day program, including J. H. Palmer, the noted English traveller and his wonderful choir of "Singing Kaffir Boys" from darkest Africa; the inimitable Julius Caesar Naylor in a new costume, lecturer; Dr. Y. Minakuchi, the celebrated Japanese educator; the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra, ten talented young ladies featuring Miss Edith Lee-Buxton, the well-known dramatic reader without a superior; Dr. Salen G. Bland, of Winnipeg, a brilliant Canadian; J. C. Herberman, that powerful fighter, whose lecture on community building last year still remains on the minds and hearts of the people of The Pass, will have a new lecture; Sergt. Arthur Gibbons, of Toronto, one of Canada's heroes; and other wonderful lecturers and eminent musical attractions.

Our Smallest Railway

Stretches From End to End of an Island in the Athabasca River

So much is heard in these days, of the "biggest railroad in the world," the "biggest pier," the "largest aeroplane," the "greatest business undertaking," that it is a relief to learn that there is actually a railroad that boasts of being the smallest in the world and is entirely satisfied with its lot. This is the Grand Island Railway, which stretches from end to end of an island in the Athabasca river, in northern Canada. The entire length of track is a quarter of a mile, and the rolling stock comprises two well-worn locomotives. Merchandise is brought to the island in boats or crows, transferred to the railroad, and shipped again by water at the other end. The man who owns this railroad is annoyed by few strikes, since he has few employees; customers must load the cars themselves and propel them by hand power across the island. Certainly this is the "simple life" with a vengeance, but the owner says that the enterprise returns thousands of dollars a year, and he leaps into the fashionable superlatives by claiming that his is not only the smallest but the most profitable railroad in the world.—Christian Science Monitor.

What He Meant

Small Politician—I want to talk to you, sir, about a remark you made respecting me in your paper. You called me a political jobber, sir.

Editor—Yes, it was a very annoying typographical error, and promptly dismissed the compositor.

Small Politician—Ah! then you didn't mean to call me a jobber?

Editor—No, sir. I wrote "jobber" very distinctly.—Calgary Herald.

An Oil of Merit—Dr. Thomas Electric Oil is not a jumble of medicinal substances thrown together and pushed by advertising, but the result of the careful investigation of the curative qualities of certain oils as applied to the human body. It is a rare combination and it won and kept public favor from the first. A trial of it will carry conviction to any who doubt its power to repair and heal.

Why Not?

The Kaiser is to assume, among others, the titles "Grand Duke of Courland, Grand Duke of Lithuania and the Prince of Eastonia and Livonia and Great Protector of Finland. Why not Grand Ravisher of Belgium.—New York Evening Sun.

Soft corners are difficult to eradicate, but Holloway's Corn Cure will draw them out painlessly.

The Privileged Pretty

"Do plain girls or pretty girls do better in business?" It's about a toss-up, says a woman. "I don't make so many mistakes, but there are fewer kinks about the blunders the pretty girls make.—Boston Transcript.

Back Ache!

NATURE gives warning of approaching disaster, and backache tells you that the kidneys are deranged.

As soon as the kidneys fail poisons are left in the blood, which cause aches and pains, rheumatism and lumbago.

The digestive system is interfered with, and there is gradual loss of flesh and harshness and dryness of the skin. There is often headache and dropsical swelling of the limbs.

The most effective treatment is that which awakens the action of the liver and bowels, as well as the kidneys, for these organs work together in removing the poisonous impurities from the system.

This is the reason why Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so successful in the treatment of diseases of the kidneys. This is why they frequently cure when ordinary kidney medicines fail.

Just put this medicine to the test when you have backache, headache and other indications that these filtering and eliminating organs are sluggish in action, and see how quickly they will respond.

Prevention is always the wiser course. For this reason it is well to keep Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills at hand, and by regulating these organs forestall serious disease.

A "Republic of Soviets"

No Basis for an Equitable Government in Such a Human Drift

Russia is now a "republic of soviets," not like the "United States," a republic of people. "Soviets" means councils, and the councils in this case are miscellaneous groups of soldiers and workmen. It is in the supposed interest and at the behest of these councils that the constitutional assembly, elected by universal suffrage, has been turned out in a congress of their own.

According to reliable reports from the foreign correspondents now in Russia, the soviets are composed of about nine former soldiers—that is, deserters from the army—to one civilian workman. They represent certainly no basis for an equitable government in such a human drift. Messrs. Lenin and Trotsky would appear merely to have taken advantage of it to establish their personal power for a time.

There is no groundwork for the national construction in such an assembly as this congress of soviets, which deliberately turns aside from the only means of organizing the force of the whole nation.—Boston Transcript.

The Shortest Railroad

You have heard of the shortest railroad before. Always they're the most abbreviated ever. But off-hand one would grant the prize to Miramichi, N.B. It has a railroad only one hundred feet long. It connects the Northern Pacific with the C.P. & St. P. and is used as a transfer. It has no equipment, no employees, and no stations, yet the company that owns it gets fifty cents for every car that passes over its rails. Sixteen thousand have done so thus far. Think of it!

SPRING IMPURITIES

CLOG THE BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine Is a Necessity at This Season

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an all-year-round tonic blood-builder, and are restorers of the system. They are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season of the year when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these pills helps to make new, red blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give new strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop appetite, tone the stomach and break down the poisons in the blood. In the spring the system is often weak and it is at this time that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are so valuable. They are a tonic for the blood most seriously needed attention. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills factually renew and enrich the blood, and this new blood reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, bringing new health and new strength to weak, easily tired men and women and children.—Here is a bit of proof: Mrs. J. B. Patterson, of E.D. No. 1, Thorold, Ont., says: "My trouble was one of general weakness, which I could not shake off and gave me at times unbearable headaches, loss of appetite and also loss in weight. I tried several remedies, but without success. Then I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to give them a fair trial. The result is that I feel like a new person. My appetite improved, and as the ailments attributed to worms are concerned, a high mortality among children is traceable to worms. The strength of infants so that they are unable to maintain the battle for life and succumb to weakness. This preparation gives promise of health and keeps it."

The scarcity and consequent abnormal prices of motoring necessities, such as gasoline, for example, have necessarily affected the use of pleasure cars. Recently, however, the price of gasoline has fallen in the United States, and the use of pleasure cars is again becoming popular.

In the spring of 1916 ordinary low-grade walking shoes in Sweden had increased in price to $11 a pair. They are now $25 a pair.

The use of Miller's Worm Powder insures healthy children so far as the ailments attributed to worms are concerned. A high mortality among children is traceable to worms. The strength of infants so that they are unable to maintain the battle for life and succumb to weakness. This preparation gives promise of health and keeps it."

Keeping Milk Pure

To Guard Against Disagreeable Odors and Tastes

Warm milk at the time it is drawn from the cow readily absorbs from the air of the stable certain substances which impart to the milk disagreeable odors and tastes. When milk is allowed to stand in a poorly ventilated or unclean barn, the characteristic odor of acid or rancid feeds such as beets, ensilage and turnips may be imparted to milk in the milking machine. This may lead one to believe that the trouble is due to food which has been eaten, and that the odor and taste have been eliminated with the milk through the udder.

Ordinarily the condition can be corrected by the prompt removal of the milk as soon as drawn from each respective animal and placing it in the milk house where facilities for the proper and immediate cooling are available.

Garbage as Hog Feed

Saskatoon, Sask., feeds 500 to 800 hogs on garbage mixed with a small amount of grain. The city of Worcester, Mass., feeds 3,000 hogs on garbage. Springfield, Mass., sells $50,000 worth of municipal feed hogs; Grand Rapids, Mich., feeds 300 cattle and 400 sheep and 700 pigs on garbage and a certain amount of hay. Addington, Mass., Lowell, Mass., Fall River, Mass., and Providence, R. I., all distribute their garbage to private companies who feed it to livestock.

The Spirit That Wins

That was a noble, a self-sacrificing spirit evidenced by General Pershing, commanding the American forces in France, when he told the allies: "All that we have are yours to do with as you will. That is the spirit that wins.—Edgerton Whipple.

Bad Year Ahead In Forest Fires

Rangers Ask Public to Help Them Keep Fire Out of the Woods

The danger season for forest fires is near at hand. Rapidly drying winds, has left the old grass, brush, leaves, etc., in most perilous condition for starting fires.

An effort is being made by the fire rangers in this province to keep down the forest losses this year to a minimum. They will succeed only if every camper carefully extinguishes his campfire before leaving it, if every smoker refrains from tossing away burnt matches or tobacco in or near a wood, and if settlers in the newly opened districts guard their land-clearing fires with the utmost care. Settlers' fires continue to be the very worst source of forest conflagration, although campers and least smokers are close competitors.

"The fire rangers," says the Canadian Forestry Association, "want every good citizen to regard himself as a deputy ranger from now until November first."

"A Canadian forest was never worth so much as today, never gave so many people so many pleasures, never money into circulation as it does this year."

Cost of Living in Sweden

There Are Places With Higher Prices Than They Are Here

Sweden before the war used to import about 5,000,000 tons of coal at a price of 10 shillings per ton. This year, however, has stopped. One result is that coal in Sweden now sells at $100 a ton, and is difficult to obtain. In Denmark, also, the coal shortage is acute. In Copenhagen's finest department store clerks wear straw slippers and woolen blankets because there is not coal enough to keep the place properly heated.

Automobile tires are scarce in Denmark and consequently have skyrocketed in price. A single tire for $450 there last October.

Tea in Sweden is $8 a pound. Coffee is practically unobtainable. Woolen clothing has increased more than 200 per cent, in price since the beginning of the year. Chocolate sells for $3 a pound; ham for $1 a pound. Gasoline, likewise, is difficult to obtain, and the price of it is prohibitive—last October it was $2 a gallon.

The length of the midwinter day in Sweden is approximately four hours. Light is practically unobtainable, so the people have to depend largely upon candles. In August, 1914, candles were 15 cents a pound; in January, 1917, 34 cents a pound; and last October, 58 cents a pound.

The scarcity and consequent abnormal prices of motoring necessities, such as gasoline, for example, have necessarily affected the use of pleasure cars. Recently, however, the price of gasoline has fallen in the United States, and the use of pleasure cars is again becoming popular.

Old Folks' Coughs, Catarh, Bronchitis Quickly Cured

This Tells of a Method That Cures
Without Using Drugs

Elderly people take cold easily. Unlike young folks, they recover slowly. That is why so many people pass middle life in the grip of pneumonia.

Cough Syrup seldom does much good because they cause indigestion. Any doctor knows that a much more effective treatment is "CATARRHOZE," which heals and soothes the irritated passages of the throat.

In using Catarrhoze you do not take medicine into the stomach. You simply breathe into the throat, nose and lungs, rich balsam vapor, so full of healing power, that colds, catarrh, and bronchitis disappear almost instantly.

The germ-killing balsam vapor mingles with the air, descends through the throat down the bronchial tubes, and finally reaches the lungs, where it soothes and kills. All parts are soothed with rich, pure, medicinal essences, whereas the cough and cold could not be reached and harm would result from burning the stomach.

Use Catarrhoze Inhaler in your pocket or purse enables you to cope with the first sneeze. Large size costs $1.00, and supplies treatment for two months, small size, 50c. Sold by druggists and druggists, or The Catarrhoze Co., Kingston, Canada.

Work of Education Must Go On

Shall Our Girls Attend College In War Times?

The danger of forgetting the future while planning for the present is not as great today as it was three years ago. The shock of war has given birth to a finer and broader conception of the true functions of a nation and that very conception compels a masterly survey of the future.

The world has not become poorer in spirit during the terrible years just passed. Neither must it become poorer in its ability to prepare for the plan for the highest welfare of those who will come on to the stage of reason tomorrow.

It is a wonderful heritage and, without an appalling one that the great generation is preparing for the next and the least we can do for those who are to inherit our mistakes and our glorious achievements is to equip them as well as possible for their responsibilities. For that reason must we prepare for the day that never before for the education of those who are to become the men and women of the future.

They cannot think great thoughts and undertake great tasks unless they have been prepared for them through education. What that education shall be rests entirely with us.

There is an impulse, in some quarters, to regard education at college as a wartime luxury which should be eliminated in order that the time and energy demanded for college work may be devoted to the war effort.

It can be shown that war work suffers because our girls attend college then, of course, some of them will be applied. But it must be a reminder which does not rob the future. The probability is that some of the men who belong to today is not doing their full share of war work.

Facts in the case prove that the college girl is not a packer in war work. More than that, she performs war work and better war work than she would do away from college. Most important of all, she does character, growth and womanhood, things that are indispensable for the future. This personal gain comes because the discipline war work translates it into terms of actual living in a way that was never true of college work in the past.

Trained thinkers and disciplined workers are in demand today—the supply is not over-abundant. The standards for the future will be even greater. Has any one the right to fall to provide for this demand? An Oxford woman who speaks with authority says: "The work of education must go on. . . if we sacrifice the standards for the future we have arrived in the past we are more truly defeated than if they (the Germans) had marched from end to end of our land."

Surely England is qualified to speak the final word on this subject. She knows the value of war work and the value of an education. She has found a way to combine war work and college training—to insure same thoughts and actions in the future. Her verdict is "School as usual."

College girls have actually replaced men in war work. Would they do this at home? At both English and Canadian colleges the girls have taken over the care of the college grounds, thus releasing the men for military service. They have prepared, planted and tended gardens for soldiers' wives and, by the end of term time the gardens were in shape to require but little attention from the wives.

have taken over the heavy work of packing and boxing comforts for shipping overseas sent to various centres. They have contributed generously to various funds and have offered this money from their own allowances or by voluntary rationing. One well-known private school in Canada has "donated" from its ten families every year of the war and has supplied the uniforms and shoes for the children. They have the satisfaction of knowing that children who are now strong and healthy will be in the struggle against underfeeding. Almost a thousand dollars has been raised for this particular work.

English college girls have united in the "Girls' Patriotic Union" and have established the "Star and Garter Fund." They have contributed five thousand pounds sterling to build and equip a set of rooms at the Star and Garter House at Richmond for soldiers and sailors totally disabled by the war. Two motor ambulances have also been given by this union and substantial sums contributed to relief funds. It is not unreasonable to say that these examples of war work by college girls of the same age and rank working at home.

Benefits to the girls themselves is important. The systematic sacrifice of leisure and luxuries has made the girls able to do more useful opportunities. It has made them more systematic, more self-controlled and more efficient in their work.

It has lifted the girls out of themselves and out of the narrowness of their own life. Above everything else it has taught them the value of co-operation and the things that are indispensable to successful living later on and which could not be gained by the same means.

While our girls are attending college they are performing invaluable service to the nation. They are laying deep foundations for efficiency and helplessness when they shall have come into their inheritance—the future.

City Boys on the Farm

Conditions Under Which the Work Should Be Watched

The draining of the country of labor available for war work has attracted attention to the potential value of the boy in his teens as a means of increasing the labor supply. For the past two seasons, many of these boys have undertaken the work of the farm.

Many of these boys have undertaken the work of the farm. They are not only doing the work of the farm, but they are also doing the work of the city. They are doing the work of the city and the work of the farm.

What Women Want to Know

Some Queries and Answers Regarding Conservation of Food

Lullaby. Yes, you can save maple sugar to the front and there is no waste that will be more appreciated. It is better adapted for transport than chocolate and you are sure that it will make your brother think of sugaring time in the bush when he was a youngster and there was no thought of a world-wide war. There will be plenty of maple sugar and syrup this year if the farmer lives up to expectations. The season has so far been an ideal one for tapping.

"Domestic." You are fortunate to have such a good supply of potatoes. It should stand you in good stead during the next few weeks when all over the Dominion a potato campaign will be in progress. Canadians do not half realize the usefulness of the humble potato. Its possibilities are endless. It stands pre-eminent among the vegetables used for food. It must be remembered that the most nourishing part of the potato lies next the skin in the shape of an aerial juice which passes into the water during boiling.

Beneath the skin is a mineral potato. The composition of potatoes is as follows: Water, 78.5%; Starch, 17.2%; Protein, 1.2%; Mineral matter, 2.1%; Fat, 0.1%.

If you are tired of cooking potatoes the old way, try for instance a few new methods. For instance, have you tried potato chips? They are delicious and easy to make.

Delicious Potatoes. To creamed potatoes, add bread crumbs, add one-third cup grated milk cheese, arrange potatoes and cheese in alternating layers before covering with crumbs.

Mrs. Brown. In reply to your query the following seems to me something that you may want to know. The Canadian natural advantage in the production of potatoes is in the shape of an aerial juice which passes into the water during boiling.

Wheat, Germany, 35.1; Canada, 21.04; rye, Germany, 30.4; Canada, 18.28; barley, Germany, 14.5; Canada, 29.06; oats, Germany, 61.1; Canada, 38.78; Potatoes, Germany, 23.5; Canada, 16.58.

Enquirer. You are quite mistaken in your assumption that the Canadian food board is a financial burden to the country. As pointed out by Hon. T. A. Cramer, minister of agriculture, the food board is a financial asset to the country.

Miss Roberts. You will be pleased to know that new and drastic regulations have been issued by the Canadian food board to govern public eating houses of all kinds.

Hours are fixed for meals and the serving of meals is regulated to certain meals and certain days. The amount of bread served is strictly limited. It is also the amount of butter and of the various meats. Waste of food in the kitchen or elsewhere is made an offence under the new regulations and waiters, cooks and stewards are made personally responsible as well as proprietors and managers.

These regulations apply to all eating houses in the country as well as in the city and copies of the order in council giving the regulations in full may be secured from the food board upon application.

Mrs. B. E. Judging from the tone of your letters you cannot yet have heard of the new waste and hoarding regulations recently issued by the Canadian food board. Under these it is your bounden duty to report either to the provincial or municipal authorities the case of which you speak. Every woman who knows of hoarding or waste has a duty resting on her to bring the law to bear on the culprit.

Farmer's Wife. The boys of Canada are responding magnificently to the call from the farms. The S.O.S. has not been in vain. They are helping up in all the provinces and it is expected that the original estimate of 25,000 will be far surpassed.

Several towns and cities in Ontario 100 per cent of the eligible students in the high schools and colleges are enlisted in the war effort.

The Prussian Way. Scores of German prisoners of war, officers and men, are being held in the grateful hands of the Canadian people. They have been tried to escape from English hands and received punishment for the attempt. A young Swede named Holmberg, an allied prisoner in Germany, was given three years' penal servitude for endeavoring to gain his liberty.

The Lokai-Angeiser describes it as a mystery. "I undoubtedly much sharper watch was kept after Holmberg's failure to get away."

His Preference. "Bobby" said a friend to a six-year-old boy. "I hear you are going to school" said the boy.

"Yes, sir," was the reply. "What part of school do you like best, then?"

"Comin' home," was the prompt reply. "Kansas City Star."

"Bird white," they said, "three months ago. Yet forward, France steps into the battle. Sheer intellect, sheer soul, she stands before our blurred eyes today—calm, radiant, unconquerable as right and beauty and truth—New York Tribune."

"If the Kaiser would only lead one charge!" exclaims the Philadelphia Record.

By Far the Cheapest Animal Food On the Market Today

To get a clearer idea of how dairy products meet present-day needs, the following comparisons are made on milk:

One quart of milk on an energy basis equals: 2 pounds of chicken; 79 pounds of steak; 8 eggs; 3.35 pounds of oysters; 7 oranges; 10 pounds of fish; 6.55 pounds of tomatoes; 1/2 dozen bananas; 79 pounds of English walnuts; 3.3 pounds of asparagus.

Figuring this on a price basis one quart of milk at 12 1/2c equals: 100 cents of beef; 22 cents of chicken; 28 cents of sirloin steak; 20 cents of eggs; $1.33 worth of oysters; 22 cents of fish; 40 cents of oranges; 20 cents of bananas; 21 cents of English walnuts; $1 worth of asparagus, 17 cents worth of tomatoes.

Good milk is by far the cheapest animal food on the market today, and the more the consuming public uses it the cheaper will be the cost of living, and the better nourished will be the people.

War and Food No. 15—EGGS

To talk to the farm woman about eggs is like bringing coals to Newcastle and yet there are aspects of the egg business of which she never thinks, so much is it a matter of course to her to see the eggs being shipped to the city. It is estimated that about 95 per cent of the eggs sold in Canada come from the farms and the remainder from small poultry-keepers in villages, towns and cities. Most of the farm eggs pass through the hands of the country storekeepers. From them they go to the wholesale house. Finally they are candied and turned over to the jobber, or the retail trade, or put in cold storage to be kept for winter use.

The most natural place for the farmer to sell his eggs is, at the country store. Here he has the least trouble and gets the quickest return on his eggs in trade or cash, whichever he prefers.

It is estimated that the greatest number of eggs come from the market at 10c in that state because of conditions on the farm. A small percentage of the blame is attached to the country store and still less is attributed to conditions under which eggs are shipped, or the loss that occurs in transit.

In taking measures to prevent losses of this kind the first step must be taken by the farmer. In spring the losses are considerable, but as warmer weather comes, they grow heavier and heavier. The following are some pointers for the farmer and his wife on how to get the best results with their hens:

(1) Keep the poultryhouse clean. (2) Separate the roosters from the hens after the hatching season. (3) Provide plenty of clean straw on the floor and in the nests. (4) Do not allow broody hens on the nests.

(5) "Break them up" by putting in boxes with slatted bottoms raised off the floor. (6) Gather the eggs twice a day. (7) Keep them in a cool, dry place. (8) Sell them twice a week if possible. (9) Use clean cases and fillers. (10) Sell only the best, and also all small eggs.

British Metals Bill

Bill Designed to Frustrate Future German Control of Metals

Economic Service, the official organ of the Colonial Institute of Hamburg, has just reproduced textually the British bill designed to frustrate future German attempts to control the metals of the world. Comment on the bill's proposals, the commercial organ, Berlin Daily Paper, says:

"As far as Germany and her allies are concerned, we shall have to insist at the peace negotiations that discriminatory laws like these, which can only lead to endless reprisal legislation and must result in poisoning the whole economic atmosphere, are abolished by the treaty of peace."

The Kaiser now seems to picture himself as a glittering Ajax, nobly the champion of the whole world. But that kind of Ajax easily becomes an outlaw and a pariah, with whom no power on earth will have dealings.—New York Evening Post.

Potato butter is recommended by the British Ministry of Food as a cheap substitute for butter, being made in England at a cost of less than 10 cents per pound, as follows:
"Peel the potatoes and boil until they fall to pieces and become floury. Then rub through a fine sieve into a warm basin 14 ounces of potatoes and add 2 ounces of butter or margarine and 1 teaspoonful of salt. Stir until smooth and then mold into rolls and keep in a cool place. To make the appearance appropriate use butter coloring, and if intended to keep beyond a few days, a better preservative should be added."

Death of Private H. Merry

Death claimed a patient at the Frank Military Hospital on Wednesday morning in the person of Private Harry Merry, a member of the original 50th Battalion. Funeral took place at Blairmore on Thursday afternoon.

The late soldier had seen service for some time on the Somme front, and as a result of hardships experienced there lung troubles developed, which necessitated his return to Canada. He had been a patient at the Frank Military Hospital for several months and by his many good qualities and genial manner gained the esteem of the staff and patients alike; also making many friends in the surrounding district.

The deceased was about twenty-three years of age and a native of Essex, near London, England, where his bereaved parents now reside. They also have a son who is a prisoner of war in Germany, and another son wounded, now lying in hospital in England.

The funeral was of a military character, the remains being conveyed to the Anglican Church, Blairmore, where a most impressive service was conducted by the Rev. H. Clay. The hymns: "Unto the hills around do I lift up my longing eyes," "On the resurrection morning," and "Peace, perfect peace," being sung, the service concluded with the Dead March.

The coffin, which was covered by floral offerings, was followed to the cemetery by his cousin, the only relative in Canada, by the officers and comrades from the hospital, and many civilian friends, where the committal service was read, after which three volleys were fired and the Last Post was sounded.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to his bereaved parents.

Death of Mrs. Davidson

The sincere sympathy of the people of the Crows' Nest Pass goes out to David Davidson and children, of Bellevue, in the very severe loss sustained by the death of Mrs. Davidson, which occurred rather unexpectedly on Sunday morning last. Mrs. Davidson was ill but a short time. She was about thirty-three years of age, and leaves a husband and four small children to mourn the loss of a loving wife and parent.

Following a service conducted at the home by the Rev. H. Peters, the funeral cortege wound its way to Blairmore on Monday afternoon, where interment took place. As a tribute of respect to the deceased lady, the business establishments and the mine at Bellevue were closed on Monday, and the funeral was the largest witnessed in The Pass since the Hillcrest mine disaster.

The Oddfellows, of which Mr. Davidson is a member, turned out in a body.

Large numbers of floral offerings were evident, among them beautiful wreaths from the L. O. O. F. lodges of Bellevue and Blairmore.

With the bereaved ones we extend our sincerest sympathy.

Anglican Church

Sunday being Whit Sunday, there will be a special celebration of Holy Communion at 9:30 a.m. The subject of the address will be "The first day in the History of the Christian Church."

Sunday school at 2:30. Superintendent Mrs. F. Wright.

A hearty welcome to all.

We found the following pinned on our office door on Monday night last: "The story is going the rounds of a girl dying from light facing." That brand of corsets should be done away with, and if girls can't live without being squeezed we suppose men could still be found who would sacrifice themselves. As old as we are we would rather devote about three hours a day, without a cent of pay, as a prevent corset, than see these girls dying in that manner. Office hours almost any time. This branch of the business will be conducted in the editor's office only.

Local and General

Capt H. E. Lyon was down from Calgary during the week.

The total British casualties for the week ending Tuesday, May 14th, amounted to 41,612.

W. J. H. Ilor, who sustained two broken legs by falling from an electric light pole on February the 9th, has just come out of hospital and is able to be about on crutches.

T. Grawford has severed his connection with the Goodbye Hardware Co. at Coleman and with his family will leave for Calgary early next month. "Tom" has a good position with the Ashdown Co., and we wish him success.

Men of 19 and those who attained the age of 20 years on or since October the 13th last, will be ordered by proclamation to register on or before June the 1st. Up to that date, such men may be treated regarding enrolment as volunteers.

The promoters of the Veterans' dance, held at the opera house on Friday night last, May the 10th, wish to thank all those who helped to make the affair a success, especially those from outside points. Also to thank all who provided refreshments for the occasion. After paying all expenses, the sum of $54 was handed over to the O.C., Capt. Hunt, for the boys of the Military Hospital, Frank.

Considerable interest is being centered in the boxing exhibition to take place on Friday night next at the opera house. We understand that a number of young Jack Johnsons will go through the preliminary exercises, and some of the young "pugs" are already beginning to wear the tough appearance. Some of them are now stepping with baked potatoes fastened to the other side of the nose to realize what the after effects of the bout will feel like. Morning, noon and night they are seen making high jumps, dodging the mosquito, running miles, climbing poles, concealing up with air compressors, hitting high goals, and blushing at the elite, and if dream come true, someone will feel better or worse after the night of Empire Day, 1918.

GERMANY IS ALREADY LAYING PLANS FOR NEXT GREAT WAR

ENEMY SPREADING THE GOSPEL OF CONQUEST

Peace That May Be Concluded With Germany That Does Not Involve Her Destruction as a Military Power May Only Be Regarded as a Mere Armistice

If an Englishman should write a book discussing the possibilities of the next war, assert that war is the best occupation of mankind and that to prepare for it we should among other things be very careful to preserve the aristocratic idea, he could in the first place get nobody to publish it. If he produced it at his own expense he might consider himself lucky if a court adjudged him insane. Otherwise he would be lynched. Yet such a book has been written in Germany by Lieutenant General Baron von Freytag-Loringhoven and it is a fit companion for the books of Bernhardi, which did so much to develop in the German people the spirit that has horrified the world in the past three years. The baron is no mere dreamer, no irresponsible theorist, no fanatic with a hobby that has unhinged his mind. He stands high in the councils of Germany. He is the special confidante of the general staff of the German army. His book, entitled, "Deductions from the World War," was published last fall, and is said to have had a great sale in Germany. Efforts to prevent it from circulating outside the country were made, but a few copies were smuggled out, and from one of them an English edition has been prepared.

Its importance is such that it is a duty to impress upon the public the significance of this work. It confirms an opinion that has been more than once expressed in these columns, namely, that the Germans must be judged as a people, and that to make distinctions between the kaiser and the junker class and the rest of Germany is both idle and vicious so far as militarism is concerned. There was a time in the war when certain English and Canadian publicists sought to impress upon the people that they must not hate the Germans, that they must consider them as unfortunate sufferers from a poison; that we were not to be their executioners, but rather their kindly, if firm, attendants and physicians. Until quite lately some such idea appeared in the popular mind, and it is reasonable to suppose that the German people know it. But the kaiser and there are any yet who persist in the doctrine that the Germans have had forced upon them the form of government which they abhor, and that they are really decent, kindly, peace-loving folk at heart. The words of Prince Bulow are interesting: "Militarism is not a Prussian invention," he says, "Militarism is Prussia herself."

It seems incredible that after this war Germany should still have a taste for slaughter, but it is plain that Baron Freytag-Loringhoven is acting on this belief. There is only one thing that will cure this maniac bent in the German mind, and that is absolute, overwhelming defeat, bitter suffering and a league of nations that will constitute itself an armed guard of Germany for a generation and more to come. The baron laughs at the idea of ridding the world of war by means of mutual agreements. He admits that there will be agreements, but says that occasional wars will continue to arise when the forces in one nation will refuse to be controlled by an agreement made years before. The notion of a universal league for the preservation of peace is ridiculous, he says, and any proud-spirited nation would regard such an organization as "intolerable tutelage." Equally Utopian, therefore, is the idea that Germany herself should be invited to join such a league. There was, in fact, if not in name, such a league before the war began; that is to say a league of nations that would not provoke war. Germany was supposed to be a member of it. Hence the present struggle.

Freytag spreads the gospel of war among the German people. If he has any regrets as a result of the developments of the present war, the chief is that the Germans have not sufficiently studied war. He quotes with approval the words of Frederick the Great: "The military art demands continuous study; if one desires to attain a thorough mastery of it, he may as far from battles as myself that I have exhausted. If I even of opinion that a human lifetime is not long enough in order to pursue it to the very end." Plainly it will be the duty of German scientists to concentrate their attention on the problem of increasing the span of human life, so that Germany may produce a certain number of murderers who will begin the study of military science at the age of three and continue it for a hundred years or so. On their deathbeds they will then be able to hand their plans to a conquering kaiser, president and permit him to start the next war with better prospects of success.

As regards the practical lessons learned from this war, the baron says that in the future there must be great increase in the number of machine guns to a company. Cavalry ought not to be proportionately increased, but a considerable force will be necessary. The system of training must be made to include men not now subject to it. In fact, every male, able-bodied or not, must have military training. The navy must be greatly increased, but how it is to be increased is not clear. Perhaps the idea is to take over the British navy as a going concern. He points out the necessity of seizing industrial centres and coal fields in neutral countries and admits that economic conditions will continue to play an increasing part in future wars. The lesson we should read from this war is that peace may be concluded with Germany that does not involve her destruction. It is to be hoped that peace will be a mere armistice, which will enable her to raise another army and wage more vigorous world domination.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

The Shaven Soldier

Modern Warrior Less Ferocious But More Efficient in Consequence

When the Indian braves of old met foes unquestionably worthy of their own weapons, they arrayed themselves as fantastically as possible, and emitting the most blood-curdling war-whoops in their repertoire, came into battle. Their strategy was based on the assumption that the strength of arm would have to be supplemented by superiority of will if victory was to be their portion. They reasoned that if they could frighten the opponents before they would win the day.

Then came the shaven soldiers of the Crimean and the American Civil wars. The shaven soldier, from choice, but from stern necessity, since the double edged 100 per cent. efficient blade of the modern safety razor was not dreamed of. The old-fashioned razor in vogue at the time, could always be depended upon to be dull. There was nothing left to do but to popularize the beard, and popularized it was. And the basis upon which the beard was popularized was that the warrior affected it because it imparted that ferocity which is the component of victory, and not because he was at a disadvantage. But the beard is still regarded as a necessary preliminary to any kind of fighting, well illustrated by the methods of the German propagandists in the present struggle. But the beard has gone by the board since it has been amply demonstrated that the ferocity of the shaven soldier is not a disadvantage, but a great advantage. If the safety razor had never been invented, and never been mechanized, the world would have been undoubtedly a better place today. They are still popular in Russia.

Western Canada Irrigation Conference

Annual Convention to Be Held at Nelson, B. C., This Year

Nelson, British Columbia, is preparing for the annual convention of the Western Canada Irrigation Association, when the annual convention is held there next summer. Irrigation is playing a bigger part in Western Canada's crop production with every passing year, and the Western Canada Irrigation Association aims to assist in the development of the agricultural resources of the country by affording occasion at its annual convention for discussion of the problems which confront the irrigator, and other addresses of recognized authorities on various phases of agricultural life. In the long ago it was the boast of some of the irrigators that they did not require irrigation in order to carry on their agricultural operations, but a very great change has come about in the public attitude toward irrigation, however, and now such centres as Nelson recognize frankly the advantages that can be derived from the artificial use of water. Indeed, Nelson sent very strong representations to the con-

The Kaiser's Challenge

From a Speech at Plymouth by Lord Milner

It is not now a question of destroying Prussian militarism. The question is whether Prussian militarism should destroy us, and make an end of all that the freedom-loving peoples of the world have been striving for centuries and are still striving to attain. The issue is perfectly simple, and it is any good peace-loving people in this country—and I believe we are at heart all peace-loving people—and any good peace-loving people leave at any time these last three years and a half felt a doubt as to what we were fighting for, surely no sensible man could survive today. I know it has been suggested that, if we could only make it clear to the German people that we had no desire to destroy Germany or to dictate to her as to her form of government, the German people of this country would be greatly strengthened, and we should be brought nearer to a termination of the terrible conflict which is devastating the world and threatens to engulf it.

Well, I contend that we have made it clear. The latest speeches of President Wilson and the prime minister leave no doubt whatever that neither America nor this country will deprive the German people of their right to decide for themselves under what constitution they choose to live. We are not fighting to deprive the German people of their independence or of their fair share in the trade and commerce of the world, always provided that the same independence, the same self-determination, the same right to a "place in the sun" are effectively ensured to other nations, especially the smaller nations, like Serbia and Rumania, who have in the past been the victims of German ambition. If we will not let the German people decide for themselves the end of this long agony of mankind might not be far distant.

And may be this is all that the bulk of the German people desire, and maybe a time will come when, through pressure from below, this moderate demand will be reflected in the actions of the German government. But it is certainly not so affected that the German government, we are told, wants peace, but it must be a German peace. We must be content with peace with neighboring nations," says the German emperor, "but the victory of the German arms must be recognized." To that challenge there can be only one answer. It is the answer we gave to Napoleon, when he was much nearer master of the whole world than the German emperor now is, or ever will be.

Another Price Rise

Compensation by Government for Displaced Animals

Slaughtered. A bill will be introduced by the minister of agriculture at the present session increasing the amounts to be paid to the owners of animals slaughtered under the operation of the Animal Contagious Diseases Act. The bill will provide that no payment shall exceed in the case of paid animals $200 for each horse, $100 for each cow or bull, and $20 for each pig or sheep. In the case of pure-bred animals the amount to be paid shall not exceed $500 for each horse, $250 for each head of cattle and $75 for each pig or sheep. The bill will also provide that animals remain in force for three years.

Permits for Canadians

Food Supply for Wives and Dependents in England

A matter which closely affects the wives and other dependents of Canadians in England, and which has been their position under the food rationing system, shortly to be extended to the United States, has been laid down especially that all officers, soldiers and their families (with any dependents) who are posted to the front must be able to obtain permits to deal in foodstuffs at regimental institutes. Such permits will be available for the purchase of goods comprising the soldier's household, and in the case of women will contain an undertaking that they are not drawing separation or dependent allowances. Each permit is available for three months.

Japan's Navy

She Is to Expend Nearly £15,000,000 on Her Fleet During 1918

Notwithstanding the scarcity of steel, Japan is to expand her fleet to £15,000,000 on her navy during 1918. Some of the enhanced outlay will be spent on surplus tonnage and increased revenue, but most of it will depend on increased taxes. The total revenue of Japan for 1918 is estimated to be about 20 per cent. on an average, the weather classes feeling it most. The directors of seven Japanese shipyards, have decided to offer to supply 1½ tons of shipping to the navy for every ton of steel dispatched from America. They are prepared to undertake to supply nearly 300,000 tons of shipping to America.

"I notice that a woman prominent in war activities got hurt in a motor car accident."

"Was she badly injured?"

"Politely not. The car turned turtle. When it was raised she was found underneath it, still knitting away for dear life, but much flustered because she had dropped a stitch."

In 1917 the agricultural societies of the province of Saskatchewan held 13 spring station shows, 50 ploughing contests, 22 horse fairs, 13 exhibitions, 133 exhibitions, 23 standing crop competitions, 52 seed fairs, 17 poultry shows and 60 stock fairs.

THE SUPERIORITY OF CIVILIZATION

OVER METHODS OF BARBARISM

THE SUPERIOR INvariably DOMINATES INFERIOR

All of the Uncivilized Methods of the Enemy, While at Times Coming as a Surprise to the Allies, Have Been Systematically Met and Overcome.

Not before heard of, and indeed strictly forbidden by conventions to which the German had put his hand. We devised defenses against such superior to his own, and we now appear as a conqueror even in that last deplorable development of the eastern Slavs to manifest themselves by lack of industrial power. He got his second respite when, through the treachery of the king, Bulgaria was brought in, but that advantage was soon countered in several ways. We were catching him in his third and greatest respite. Following up the effect of the submarine war, we began to catch up on that also he enjoyed the good fortune of the Russian revolution and the subsequent disintegration of that country. The fruits of this greatest of his successes, were soon apparent in the fact that he had been equally clear in his concentration on the western front. But the superior invariably dominates the inferior in spite of the most desperate surprise. Civilization would have long ago disappeared under the attack of barbarism, but for the process, and although it is exceedingly slow, yet it is inevitable, and we can watch it in safety and satisfaction. The conditions of the submarine warfare, the building of new ships, the recruiting of American soldiers, the progress of their transport to Europe—all these indicate an increasing strength against a corresponding position of the enemy, and as he knows these calculations just as well as our, he is enabled to understand the prolonged efforts made for peace and the present grip upon his supplies. But notwithstanding everything, civilization, with all its setbacks, is prevailing, and will prevail over barbarism.—Toronto Globe.

COPENHAGEN

CHEWING TOBACCO

One of the reasons why Copenhagen Chewing Tobacco is becoming more and more popular is, because it does not attract attention to the user.

It is not chewed; on the contrary, a small pinch is placed in the mouth and the machine, which is in the form of a small, round, flat, and is used in the same manner as a cigarette.

This gives complete satisfaction without chewing, and leaves a pleasant cool after-taste.

Copenhagen Chewing Tobacco is scientifically prepared, of the best quality, fine, high flavored leaf tobacco.

It is in the form of a small, round, flat, and is used in the same manner as a cigarette, being very rich, only a small quantity should be placed in the mouth.

It's the most economical chewer.

Capt. E. T. Fitzsimmons, formerly of the Crows' Nest Pass, brother of H. H. Sterling, chief administrator and inspector of mines for the province.

In other parts of this province the ladies of the Red Cross have acquired a storeroom or lot of land for the reception of all kinds of metal and scrap-iron, which is put up for sale at different periods and the returns placed to the credit of the Red Cross Fund. What about a similar undertaking in Blairmore, where we know of all kinds of scraps from automobiles to hairpins that could well be marketed for the benefit of the Red Cross Society.

The latest publication to come into the field is a weekly magazine entitled "The Western Veteran," which as its name implies, is intended to serve particularly the interests of returned soldiers, and their dependents. It is a bright, well-edited publication and is being well received and highly complimented on its neat appearance and the high standard of its leading articles. Attention is drawn to advertisement in another column of this issue.

During the recent Triangle campaign we heard certain parties speaking in condemnation of the Military Y.M.C.A. That their statements were not justified is proven by the fact that the spirit of the people of Canada is so much in sympathy with the objects and work of the Red Triangle that the amount of money asked for from the Dominion people was over-subscribed by almost a million dollars. Since the war commenced the people of Canada have time and time again shown that they are not believers in half-dozen, but every service rendered is the fullest and from the most sympathetic and liberal hearts in the Empire.

Private William John Evans, reported missing a few weeks ago, is now reported prisoner of war in Germany.

We regret to learn that one of the leading "knockers" of The Pass is contemplating moving down to Eastern Canada. No community can properly get along without the chronic knocker, and as the Crows' Nest Pass is not overcrowded with such creatures, we will miss this one, but take considerable consolation in the knowledge that "our loss will be Eastern Canada's gain."
